

If Sen. Ted Cruz can shut down the U.S. government,
he can shut down the
wasteful sheep experiments
at Texas A&M.

Can't he?

Federally funded researchers at Texas A&M are injecting alcohol into pregnant sheep to see the effects of alcohol on the lambs' brains. The mothers are killed, and the baby lambs are removed and dissected.

We already know alcohol affects human brain development. Federal funding should be used for programs to help at-risk mothers.

Tell Sen. Cruz to shut down the sheep experiments.
