

Grilled Tofu With Smoky Barbecue Sauce

Source: The Get Healthy, Go Vegan Cookbook by Neal Barnard, MD; recipe by Robyn Webb

The tofu in this dish is best grilled, but can also be baked. Making your own barbecue sauce is easy and economical.

Ingredients

Makes 4 Servings

- tomato paste (1 8-ounce can)
- agave nectar (1/2 cup)
- liquid smoke (1 tsp.)
- ground cinnamon (1/2 tsp.)
- ground allspice (1/2 tsp.)
- garlic, minced (2 cloves)
- tamari (2 tbsp.)
- cayenne pepper (pinch)
- extra-firm tofu, pressed (1 pound)
- wooden skewers, soaked for 1 hour in warm water (4)
- vegetable oil cooking spray (to taste)

Directions

1. Combine the tomato paste, agave nectar, liquid smoke, cinnamon, allspice, garlic, tamari, and cayenne pepper in a small saucepan.
2. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Lower heat to simmer and cook for 5 minutes, stirring regularly. Set aside.
3. Cut the tofu into equal-size slabs, about 3/4-inch thick. Using two wooden skewers per tofu piece, skewer tofu, separating skewers about 1/2 inch from each other.
4. Coat a grill rack with cooking spray. Preheat gas grill to medium-high heat. When the grill is ready, add the tofu and grill for 1 minute.
5. Brush some of the barbecue sauce on the top and cook for 1 more minute. Turn the tofu and brush with more barbecue sauce. Cook for 2 additional minutes, until the tofu is browned.
6. Optional: Grill vegetables with the tofu, such as tomatoes, broccoli, carrots, red or yellow pepper, zucchini, cauliflower, or any other seasonal vegetable.
